MEMO:

DATE: May 7, 2021

TO: Mayor & Council

FROM: Lila Cresswell, CAO

SUBJECT: UBCM Development Approval Program Grant Application

BACKGROUND:

The Village of Warfield adopted an Integrated Official Community Plan in 2017 and has substantially completed a new Zoning Bylaw in 2020-2021. The draft Zoning Bylaw includes updated and new Development Permit Areas for commercial, multi-family and hazard lands. In addition it provides for a Comprehensive Development Zone (Emerald Ridge) and several zones which would require a rezoning process (Secondary Suites, Short Term Rental (B&B), Residential Infill Housing) and temporary use provisions.

PROPOSAL:

The Union of BC Municipalities and the Province of BC have partnered to roll out a grant program to improve development approval processes in BC and standardize systems. The intention is to use best practices and improve the development approval process to streamline and make development in BC more efficient. This will improve the ability for developers to create housing during the current housing shortage and also spur business and economic development.

The Development Approval Program grant is a 100% funded grant to cover the costs of developing application forms for all types of land use development, identifying necessary information requirements and reports, analyzing fee and cost recovery structures, developing checklists, bylaws and public engagement strategies as well as public documentation to make the processes more transparent. The intention is to have a consultant carry out the work required.

IMPLICATIONS:

IOCP – The IOCP includes goals and objectives to encourage transparent and fair decision making and support meaningful and accessibly community engagement. The improvement of the development processes would further these goals and objectives.

Strategic Plan – The updated 2021 Strategic Plan incudes objectives for open and transparent governance as well as community engagement.

Financial Plan – As this funding stream is 100% grant funding, there is no financial impact on the Village budget at this time.

Policy – The Policy Committee is currently considering Communication and Public Engagement Policy and this program would support this initiative.

RECOMMENDATION:

Staff recommends that Council endorse an application to the UBCM Development Approval Program grant stream in the amount of $30,900 to develop a comprehensive development approval process including application forms for the various development approval types, report and information requirements, staff and Council training materials, community engagement strategies, fee and cost recovery structures, required up-dated bylaws and applicant/public information guides and brochures.

Lower Columbia Initiatives
Economic Development

250•364•6461
1499 Bay Avenue, Trail, BC V1R 4A9

RDKB EESC - Briefing Note – April 20, 2021

Background

- In March 2005 the "Joint Highway Corridor Study" was published. While it concluded that the net cost/benefit analysis did not endorse the investment in the Corridor.

- The study described the Waneta Bridge in depth. "The BC Ministry of Transportation indicates that this facility is currently nearing the end of its service life, and plans to replace this structure (presumably to a two lane standard) within the next decade are being developed."

- Subsequently the Waneta Bridge has been "damaged" during construction of the Waneta Dam Expansion

- Loss of the bridge would be devastating for the current local economy and would significantly impact any future growth and may result in in current businesses considering moving out of region.

- There is a need to press Provincial and Federal governments regarding the replacement of this vital piece of our local transportation infrastructure.

Regional Issues related to the Waneta Bridge

- The Waneta bridge is old and in disrepair. The vehicle bridge has been re-decked sometime in the last 20 years, but no structural improvements have been made.
- Hazardous materials that are shipped by truck have to go through Osoyoos or Creston border crossings.
- There are three main concerns about the current use of the Patterson border crossing:
    - Safety
        - Commercial trucks pass through 3 residential zones and 1 school zone.
        - Winter conditions on the Rossland Hill create significant hazards for commercial trucks and, by extension, regular traffic.
    - Environmental
        - Fuel consumption and emissions from commercial trucks going up the Rossland Hill are high. Moving the 24 hour commercial crossing to Waneta would lessen fuel consumption and CO2 emissions
        - This would l require infrastructure upgrades to the Waneta Bridge.
    - Economic
        - The current necessity of using the Patterson border crossing for commercial traffic creates an economic bottleneck on further development and growth because it is unattractive to potential business investors and, critically, it actively prevents established local companies from expansion.
        - As transportation routes and options for the West Kootenay region are limited to begin with, it is particularly important to maintain the function and availability of all existing routes. This is of concern particularly for the tourism industry.

- There have been indications that federal infrastructure funding will be available on both sides of the border in the near future which would make major infrastructure upgrades possible.
- The intention is to address the need for infrastructure upgrades on both Waneta Bridges (rail and vehicle) first. Then, the designation of the type of border crossing will be possible to address.

Request:

The Lower Columbia Initiative Corp. would like to have the full support of the East End Services Committee of the RDKB to bring this issue forward to the Provincial and Federal governments.

FAX: 416 924-8692

Dear Mr. Ashman:

Re: INLAND BRITISH COLUMBIA NORTH-SOUTH TRANSPORTATION CORRIDOR
" Connecting Washington State, British Columbia and Alaska"

Need for North-South Transportation Corridor
All communities and businesses in the mountainous region of inland British Columbia support and advocate an improved north-south transportation corridor. Since NAFTA, trade and tourism in the region have increased significantly and will continue to increase in the future. Highway improvements must be made to facilitate future trade and tourism.

Innovative Approach
An innovative approach to financing the project has been developed.

• Provincial Sale of Crown Land on Arrow Lakes -	$ 75 million
• Federal Government Infrastructure	50 million
• Private Sector Financing	200 million
Total project cost	$ 325 million

Senior government repayment: $ 2.5 million annually for each federal and provincial government. Provincial repayment is based on cost savings generated by elimination of operating expensive "free ferries".

Status of Project
- Widespread support generated since 1994 when Canada Customs instituted a 24 hour border port service in response to increased trade and tourism
- October 1, 2003, US Customs instituted a full 24 hour border port service in response to security and trade issues
- This year Washington State Department of Transportation and B.C. Ministry of Transportation have committed to undertake a feasibility analysis of the corridor project

Request
The communities and industries along the Inland B.C. & Inland Pacific Northwest transportation corridor respectfully request Federal Government support for desperately needed improvements to the transportation corridor.

The proposed improvements fits in with the long term strategy for industry and tourism growth on both sides of Canada - U.S. border.

Yours truly,

Marten Kruysse

Transportation

Transportation - Accessing Rural British Columbia

Whereas, vehicular transportation corridors are of critical importance in geographically challenged and rural regions such as the Kootenay Boundary Okanagan; and

Whereas, such corridors are important for attracting and sustaining economic development; and

Whereas, a north-south corridor would facilitate significant operating savings for commercial carriers as well as enhancing tourism opportunities;

Therefore, be it resolved that, the Liberal Party of Canada urge the Government of Canada to immediately provide funding using the gasoline tax, GST revenues or Infrastructure Canada grants for the following priorities:

1. a major north-south low elevation route to enhance north-south trade, as part of an international transportation corridor connecting the Waneta, B.C. - USA border crossing with the Alaska Highway, and
2. continue development of Highway #3 (Crownest) as British Columbia's alternate to the Canada Highway # 1.

Kootenay Boundary Okanagan
Liberal Riding Association

- 79% of export wealth in British Columbia is generated in rural B.C., not in the cities, as is the case in Ontario and Quebec.
- North-south transportation routes developed the rural economy in the interior of British Columbia 100 years ago until government policy in both Canada and the U.S. encouraged east-west trade through railway and highway construction. Since NAFTA, rural inland B.C. is once again benefitting from north-south trade, but infrastructure improvements are needed to reduce obstacles to trade and tourism in this rugged mountainous region.
- This project supports all interior and northern ridings for Economic Development and reduces congestion in the Lower Mainland. Combine this with the opportunity for construction of a north-south rail link, makes this a national priority.
- Tourism development at Rossland-Red Mountain, which has produced, by far, more national team skiers than any other single ski area in North America, has been discovered by the U.S. Major development will occur, but the transportation needs to be upgraded. The route will bring additional U.S. investment and visitation to other ski resorts, including Big White, Sun Peaks, Fernie, Kimberley and Kicking Horse.

Santori announces funding to study Waneta Corridor upgrade

RDKB to receive $50,000 for feasibility study

Victoria – West Kootenay-Boundary MLA Sandy Santori today announced the Ministry of Transportation will provide $50,000 for the Regional District of Kootenay Boundary to study the feasibility of improving the Waneta border crossing.

"For more than a decade the Waneta corridor has been identified as having tremendous economic potential for this part of the Kootenays," says Santori. "Stakeholders from across the region, including the Lower Columbia Community Development Team, are strongly supportive of this initiative, recognizing that the free-flowing movement of goods and services is vital to our local economy."

The funding is subject to the understanding that the Washington State Department of Transportation will undertake a similar study on their side of the 49th Parallel.

Santori says in order to improve the entire corridor, upgrades will be needed for Highway 3B, Highway 22A, the bridge crossing the Pend Oreille River and Highway 25 in the United States.

"I am very excited that government is moving forward with an important study to determine the feasibility and benefits of this project," says Santori. "Minister Judith Reid and I sat down with a number of elected representatives, at the Union of British Columbia Municipalities conference in September, to discuss this issue and as a result we have committed to this funding."

Dear Acting Mayor Lewin:

Re: Infrastructure Requirements in the Waneta Corridor

I am writing in response to your letter of November 4, 2003, regarding a joint study with Washington state regarding improvements at the Waneta border crossing and area highways to support and encourage north-south trade.

First, let me thank you for meeting with me in September at the Union of British Columbia Municipalities and discussing this matter with me. This meeting was very helpful in giving me a better understanding of the issues involved in potential upgrades at the Waneta border crossing.

As you know, representatives of my ministry have met with the Washington State Department of Transportation on this issue. It was agreed that in order to investigate the feasibility of such improvements and develop a business case for them, a study would be required of the area between Trail, British Columbia and Northport, Washington.

Clearly, there are challenges involved in making improvements along this corridor. Upgrades would be needed at the border crossing facilities; on provincial highways 3B and 22A, including the bridge across the Pend Oreille River; and on Highway 25 on the United States side of the border.

I am prepared to provide $50,000 (Canadian funds) for a study, with the initial objective of understanding the approximate costs and benefits of the improvements that would be required in British Columbia. This is subject to the understanding that the Washington State Department of Transportation will undertake a similar study on their side of the border. If our study indicates a more detailed analysis should be undertaken, I will consider providing additional funding at that time.

If the studies ultimately recommend a series of improvements be undertaken, funding for those works would depend on a number of factors. These include an analysis looking at the estimated costs and benefits of the project, as well as the socio-economic, environmental and other impacts on the Trail-Waneta-Northport corridor. Also, our province's many competing transportation priorities would have to be considered, as would the availability of funding on the U.S. side.

I look forward to seeing the results of the studies into this proposed corridor improvement, and I again want to express my thanks to you for bringing forward your views on the matter.

Sincerely,

REGIONAL DISTRICT OF KOOTENAY BOUNDARY

Mr. Chris Ellis
Box #283
Trail, B.C. Canada V1R 4L5

Dear Mr. Ellis:

Thank you for your August 6, 2003 letter to Governor Gary Locke regarding the Waneta border crossing between Washington State and British Columbia. Because I am familiar with this facility and I have been working with the British Columbia Ministry of Transportation for many years I have been asked to reply.

There has been discussion for the past few years about building a new bridge just north of the U.S./Canadian border. To date no Canadian funds have been appropriated for that particular project. In my recent meeting in June in British Columbia with Jim Richardson, Jacques Dupas (Ministry of Transportation), Paul Ferro, and Marten Kruysse (Economic Development Commission, Regional District of Kootenay Boundary), we discussed this concept. We discussed potential routes, associated improvements required in Washington and British Columbia, border hours of operations now and into the future, business desire and support for improvements, public receptivity, environmental challenges, and funding.

It was agreed there is increasing cross border commerce movements and that we should be more proactive in identifying and mapping a strategy to address these movements. With that in mind, the members of the Ministry of Transportation and the Economic Development Commission noted they were going to request $50,000 (Canadian) for the purpose of studying alternative routes from the interior portion of British Columbia into eastern Washington. We committed to match that amount if they were successful. We are also very cognitive of the roadway improvements and corresponding funding that would be required to improve cross border movements. Improvements, impacts, and funding will be more specifically refined for each alternative, if a study is undertaken.

Let me be very clear that this does not pre-select any route option. We must investigate and analyze all options and evaluate them on their individual merits, we all understand the need for a collective agreement prior to moving ahead with any improvements. The route options are not confined to the border, but are major mobility routes e.g. Trail, Castlegar, Nelson to Colville, Chewelah, Kettle Falls, etc. Therefore, the origin and destination would not simply be a minor distance across the border.

In addition, you may be well aware that there are several entities trying to persuade the Department of Homeland Security (U.S. Customs) to open one border crossing in the Laurier, Frontier, Nelway area to a full 24 hour crossing.

In summary there is still considerable work to be done to determine if we will proceed to a route option analysis. As I'm sure you can understand this will be dependent upon available funding in both countries.

If you have any additional questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

J.C. Lenzi

Re: Proposed Upgrades to Interior British Columbia North-South Highway

Dear Mr. Anderson,

AMEC is aware of widespread interest in upgrading the existing north-south transportation corridor from Waneta at the US-Canada border to the junction with the Trans-Canada Highway at Revelstoke, B.C. Local governments, industries, business groups and the provincial government are interested in a major infrastructure project involving upgraded highways and several segments of new highways, bridges and a causeway in the Columbia River - Arrow Lakes corridor.

We understand this project would encourage economic development in the region, would be consistent with the B.C. government's Heartlands Strategy, and would provide a North-South artery to facilitate international trade and tourism (including another connection between continental US and Alaska via this route).

AMEC advises that it has the expertise, the capacity to execute, and the potential to invest in such a project, estimated by others to be in the range of $150-200 million. We would be most interested in pursuing discussions on the subject at an appropriate time.

With 860 employees in BC and 50,000 around the world, AMEC is the largest engineering and construction firm in the province of British Columbia. Our BC roots go back almost 60 years to our predecessor HA Simons Limited (founded in 1944 in Vancouver). AMEC has built a solid reputation of providing engineering and construction services for many of the world's, and Canada's infrastructure projects. These projects include the design and construction of the C$113M Highway 104 four-lane highway in Nova Scotia, the C$ 110M Anthony Henday Drive 8 lane divided highway in Calgary, Alberta, and the C$930M 69-km highway 407 toll road in Ontario. AMEC has participated in numerous B.C. projects including the Vancouver Island highway, South Peace Hill Highway 97 Alaska highway re-alignment, Coquihalla Highway Inventory, and others. We would be very interested in working on any new infrastructure developments in British Columbia.

The Province recently announced this new treatment Team, yet the locations include Penticton, West Kelowna, Kamloops, Cranbrook, and the Enderby / Salmon Arm areas. The basis of this expansion was so that people needing help were able to get this in their own home community and be able to continue working, etc. There is a clear need for something like this in our area.

Columbia River Treaty Monthly Update for the Local Governments' Committee – April 2021

Issued May 4, 2021

Highlights

- Koocanusa Reservoir weir/dam feasibility summary report
- CBRAC climate change webinar
- Valemount air quality project
- Columbia River Treaty Heritage Project
- Basin agriculture support initiative

Treaty Negotiations

- There are no new updates regarding Canada-U.S. Columbia River Treaty negotiations.
- We continue to await a response from the U.S. to the proposal tabled by the Canadian team at the 10th round of negotiations in June 2020.
- A delay is understandable given the shift in U.S. administration and other U.S. priorities such as their COVID-19 response.
- Sylvain Fabi, Canada's Chief Negotiator for the Columbia River Treaty, continues to be in touch with U.S. lead negotiator, Jill Smail, conveying that Canada is ready to resume discussions when they are.

Public Engagement

Columbia Basin Regional Advisory Committee (CBRAC)

- CBRAC welcomed two new members in April: Kymme Paul from Baynes Lake, and Giles Shearing from Revelstoke. They are filling positions of outgoing members Pam Turyk and Ken Norrie both of whom had been with CBRAC since its inception in 2014.
- CBRAC met by Zoom on April 21, 2021 to learn about climate change projections for the Columbia Basin. LGC members who are not already part of CBRAC joined the webinar as well.
- Also in attendance were alumni and faculty from the Wildsight Columbia River Field School, who were invited as part of the Province's efforts to engage more young people from the Basin in CRT related discussions.

- Presentations were delivered by climate science experts: Markus Schnorbus of the Pacific Climate Impacts Consortium at the University of Victoria; Greg Utzig of Kutenai Nature Investigations; Janice Brahney of Utah State University and Howard Stiff of the Department of Fisheries and Oceans Canada.
- During the 2 hour session, presenters explained climate models, anticipated watershed and landscape changes, and impacts to fish and aquatic communities in the Basin.
- Cindy Pearce, facilitator for the CRT Ecosystem Function Sub-Committee, explained how this information is being considered as part of the Indigenous-led CRT ecosystem studies.
- All materials will be posted on the CBRAC webpage in the next week.
- CBRAC's next webinar is May 25, 2021 and will feature an operations update from BC Hydro.

CRT Newsletter

- The latest CRT Newsletter was published on April 27, 2021.
- This edition marks the debut of a new feature, the Youth Spotlight, in which young people from the Basin share their perspectives on the river and/or the Columbia River Treaty. In the first installment, Ali Giesbrecht shares her experiences as a student of the Wildsight Columbia River Field School.
- Other articles in this issue describe: B.C.-based work on key Treaty-related priorities; the CRT virtual town hall hosted by the Province in February; recent efforts to explore the feasibility of building a weir/dam across the Koocanusa Reservoir; a new approach to supporting agriculture in the Columbia Basin; and a look at integrating social and economic interests into discussions about how the Columbia River is managed.
- Subscribe to the newsletter and read previous editions on the B.C. CRT website.

Koocanusa Weir/Dam Feasibility Summary Report

- The B.C. CRT Team is in the final stages of developing a report summarizing recent efforts to explore the feasibility of building a weir/dam across Koocanusa Reservoir. These efforts are in response to some local residents' concerns about summer changes to Koocanusa water levels and their impact on recreation and tourism on the Canadian side of the reservoir.
- The forthcoming report includes a summary of feedback received on BGC Engineering Inc.'s preliminary study of the costs, benefits and impacts related to the feasibility of building a weir/dam across Koocanusa Reservoir, and the B.C. CRT Team's assessment of that feedback.
- The summary report will be published in May, 2021.

Ongoing Communication

- The Province continues to communicate with the public through its CRT Newsletter, website and social media channels. As always, the B.C. CRT Team is open to suggestions for how to connect more effectively with Basin residents, especially youth, on the CRT. Please email Brooke.McMurchy@gov.bc.ca if you are aware of any opportunities in your communities.

Community Interest Projects

The B.C. CRT Team continues work on addressing community interests that have been raised throughout the Province's public engagement on the Treaty. Progress updates on some of the projects are listed below.

Columbia Basin Agriculture

- In late fall 2020, the B.C. CRT team completed a table matching Columbia Basin agriculture interests with over 30 existing federal and provincial support programs and services. The table was updated in April 2021.
- The CRT Team will be seeking feedback from Basin residents on the effectiveness of these programs and initiatives in addressing the interests and help to identify where there may be gaps. The April 27, 2021 Columbia River Treaty newsletter includes a description of the project and notice of the call for feedback.
- The table, 'Overview of Agricultural Interests in the Columbia Basin and Existing Agricultural Programs and Initiatives', and information on how to submit feedback, will be posted to the Province's CRT website in the coming weeks.

Columbia River Treaty Heritage Project

- The Denise Cook Design team has begun work on Phase 1 of the Columbia River Treaty Heritage Project. Phase 1 will focus on engagement and research leading to commemorative elements at four to five Indigenous and four to five non-Indigenous locations of interest. A virtual map of these new commemorative elements as well as existing CRT-related heritage elements is also planned.
- Work on the development of the CRT Heritage Project's identity (brand) is underway. This identity will be used for all project communication and to identify commemorative elements on the touring route. A small survey to collect information that will inform the creative process was sent in mid-April to select Columbia Basin residents and members of the CRT Heritage Project Steering Committee.
- Discussions continue with Columbia Basin Trust regarding their planned contribution towards Phase 1 community commemorative projects.

Creston Valley Dikes Management

- A meeting was held on April 22, 2021 attended by diking districts, Yaqan Nukiy, Town of Creston (mayor and staff), and Regional District of Central Kootenay (area director and staff). The purpose of the meeting was to review updates to the Terms of Reference and Memorandum of Understanding for the group and provide information on the application process for the Community Emergency Preparedness Fund. The Terms of Reference and Memorandum of Understanding for the group will continue to be further refined.
- Discussions continue with Columbia Basin Trust regarding potential support for the collaborative group.
- The next meeting will be fall 2021 unless funding is received from the Community Emergency Preparedness Fund. UBCM is expected to announce funding recipients at the end of May 2021.

Valemount Air Quality Project

- Hemmera Envirochem Inc. is continuing with their review of air particulate matter data collected in Valemount (March 2013 – December 2019) along with information on local meteorological measurements, Kinbasket Reservoir levels, satellite imagery, and documented observed dust storms.
- A draft technical report is expected in the coming weeks.

Lardeau Valley

- On April 27, 2021 the B.C. CRT Team received a complementary copy of the Lardeau Valley Community Development report.
- The Team will review the report to identify any opportunities to provide support or help make connections.

Projects Being Monitored

Duncan Dam Fish Passage

- No new updates since March 2021.
- BC Hydro has decided to proceed to the detailed design and installation phase to replace the fish weir at Duncan Dam. The detailed design for the project will be completed by the fall of 2021, and construction is expected to take place in the summers of 2023 and 2024.

Connectivity/Broadband

- No new updates since March 2021.
- A cross-government working group is being formed to look at opportunities to improve deployment of cellular and broadband infrastructure as part of the Province's focus on supporting economic recovery and getting high-speed internet to as many communities as possible as quickly as possible. The group's terms of reference are under development.
- The B.C. CRT Team will be represented on the working group.

Ecosystem Enhancement – Spatial Mapping Products

- No new updates since Jan. 2021.
- Arrow and Kinbasket Reservoir spatial mapping data was given to the CRT Ecosystem Function Sub-Committee and to Selkirk College for the CRT portal being developed as part of their Rural Open Data initiative.
- The process to enable public access to the CRT Portal is in progress.

Nakusp Marina and Breakwater Repairs

- No new updates since July 2020.
- The first phase of the Nakusp marina and breakwater repair project was completed in July 2020. The Village of Nakusp is seeking funding to repair another 300 feet of the breakwater at a later date.

Projects on Pause

- Kinbasket Recreational Opportunities – Waiting for a project proposal from Golden Community Coop.
- Grants in Lieu of Taxes – Standing by for questions from the LGC.

Council Committee Report

Committee Name:	Lower Columbia Community Development Team
Council Member Responsible:	Raymond Masleck
Reporting Period:	April 15, 2021 Meeting

- Teck has had four employees contract Covid. Daily, instant testing being done of everyone during roaster shutdown.
- Work continues on securing funding for an upgrade of Beaver Creek Provincial Park. CBT has backed out because it considers its participation would be taking over a regular government function.
- Lobbying strategy being developed for upgrade of Waneta bridge. As the Northport bridge has experienced difficulty with heavy truck traffic, this is seen as an opportunity to advance the low-level border crossing objective. Would require upgrades on the Northport/Waneta road.
- Planning is underway for the long-sought upgrade of the Fortis substation in Columbia Gardens, with work to double its capacity slated for 2022/23. This would meet the needs of the vast majority of companies looking for building sites and is expected to cover 10-15 years or more or expected growth. Larger electrical users would have to pay for further work by the utility to meet their needs.
- IncrEDIBLE Trail Market is moving to the Esplanade, as more space is needed to meet Covid requirements. The bi-weekly markets start Saturday, May 8, 10 a.m. - 2 p.m.
- Selkirk College is looking at some upgrades to the Trail Campus before fall semester.
- Community Futures has secured a new five-year federal contract. Working on a facade improvement program for downtown Trail modelled on a successful campaign by the City of Port Alberni and its Community Futures society.
- Registration is underway for the for the June 8-10 Industrial Circular Economy conference (ICE21), which will be mostly virtual. https://ice2021.com/
